SAME SWEATER, LOOK AND EVERYTHING
When Jack Dempsey entered the ring at Benton Harbor to defend his title against Billy Miske, Labor day, he wore the same old red sweater that he climbed between the ropes at Toledo. That little part of the champion's wardrobe is a sort of good omen to him—at least, he thinks so. You will also note the sullen look on his face.

Workmen Call for Immediate Convocation of Italian Parliament

MILAN, Sept. 13.—Immediate convocation of the Italian parliament for the purpose of passing laws under which workmen may take over management of industrial plants has been demanded by the Confederation of Labor in session here.

"We demand," this resolution read, "the immediate convocation of the chamber of deputies in order that the situation may be examined and laws proposed which will bring about radical legislative measures which, through requisition of industrial plants and participation in their management by workmen, will prepare the way for direct control of workers in the interests of collectivity."

This resolution was telegraphed to the president of the chamber and the premier.

Wall Paper Dept. WALL PAPER TALKS

The use of Thirty Inch Wall Papers has increased very rapidly in recent years. These goods, because they are nearly twice as wide as ordinary goods, have an advantage in that a room done with them, there are far fewer seams. And then, too, one gets much more pattern or figure in a tapestry paper thirty inches wide. Generally, a paper of this type embodies better design and color, for the factories look upon these goods as representing the best of their art. Our salespeople will be pleased to show you a very complete and up-to-date line of these goods in plain and figured effects.

One of a series of helpful hints to those in need of Wall Papers.

ALL CORK TURNS OUT FOR VOLUNTEER'S FUNERAL

CORK, Sept. 13.—(By Associated Press)—The funeral of Seamus Quirk, a young volunteer, killed in Thursday's disturbances at Galway, brought out practically every able-bodied man and woman in Cork yesterday afternoon. There were large numbers of children also, but there was an entire absence of disorder. The military, as on the occasion of the funeral of the slain Lord Mayor MacBride here last April, remained in barracks.

Not a single soldier was seen in the streets throughout the day and the only bit of khaki visible was that of a dozen men on guard duty on the parapet of the jail, which lies back about 200 yards from the road along which the cortege moved.

Whether by accident or design the hearse and company of uniformed volunteers heading the long procession stopped for a few minutes at the intersection of a by-road leading to the jail, and all eyes were turned in the direction of the huge stone building where the hunger strikers are slowly dying.

The streets of Cork and the long route to the cemetery were lined with spectators as the funeral procession, in which probably 6000 men and women marched, passed. The archbishop of Adelaide was among the high church dignitaries and hundreds of priests and monks making up the clerical contingent. Men prominent here in every walk of life were among the marching hosts.

The only notes of color in the drab sombre pageant were supplied by the Gaelic kilts, bands, with bagpipes and muffled drums, which played unceasingly the plaintive Irish dirge: "Wrap the green flag around me, boys—to die—'tis far more sweet," and by little girls in vivid green mantles of the national costume.

Order was well preserved by the volunteers, a squad of whom fired a salute over the grave. The priests' brief oration at the grave contained references to the hunger strikers and an expression of the wish that all Irishmen might meet death as heroically as Quirk had done and as the Cork prisoners were doing.

Warning of Reprisals
CORK, Sept. 13.—Michael Hennessy, brother-in-law of Hennessy, the hunger striker, showed the Associated Press a slip of paper yesterday apparently made by a multigraph machine, which he said he had taken from a lamp out on a street leading to the jail early yesterday morning. The paper reads: "In some districts loyalists and members of his majesty's forces have read notice threatening the destruction of their houses in certain eventualities. Under these circumstances it has been decided that for every loyalist house destroyed the house of a republican leader will be similarly dealt with.

"It is naturally to be hoped that the necessity for such reprisals will not arise, but therefore this warning of punishment which will follow any destruction of loyalist houses is being widely circulated."

According to young Hennessy similar warnings were posted during the early morning in various parts of Cork on lamp posts, signboards and walls.

Belfast Man Killed
BELFAST, Sept. 13.—A Belfast citizen, John Foner, proceeding along the Newtownards road after curfew Saturday, was shot dead, making the 32d riot victim here, or, including the July disturbances, the 52d. The total deaths in the 1936 riots, heretofore reckoned the worst in the city's history, were 51. Fifty-eight arrests were made in Belfast Saturday night after the curfew hour.

Armed raiders visited the Torr Head Coast Guard station last night and seized arms, ammunition, telescopes and other articles.

MUFF MOLE MEETS FLOPPY MOUSE

"Daddy," coaxed Muff Mole one morning as he was starting off to the Meadow Grove school, "please let me stay home today, won't you? After the storm yesterday it's fine worm hunting, and besides I'm sick of lessons!"

Papa Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home. What would Mr. Scribble Scratch was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again. Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugarbowl.

He, too, had coaxed and coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie think? Besides he'd be suspecting you were playing truant and he sending that attendance officer Nick here after you. I won't have him peking around here spoiling my house, so you run along and get your lessons and be sure you make a hundred today in spelling."

Muff didn't say anything more for he knew it was of no use, and trotted off to school as though the matter were ended. But his brain was busy for all that.

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the north star and left him alone. He Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage cans in Maple Tree flat long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

STORE HELP PROBLEM

Today most of the stores in Lowell started hiring help for the fall and winter seasons. Although nearly every store in the business section of the city employed young students whose departure will create vacancies, with the opening of the fall season and a sudden increase in business, the merchants will be obliged to keep their working force at least equal to what it was during the summer months. The stores must meet a new problem this year, however, either in refusing to hire minors who will be obliged to attend continuation schools or making special arrangements for them.

COX CONTINUES TOUR

Speaks at Portland, Ore., and Then Swings Eastward to Salt Lake City

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13.—Gov. Cox, whose throat has been giving him trouble during the past few days of his campaign tour of the west, was examined by a specialist who declared the governor's throat was in a bad condition and advised him to cancel some of his speaking engagements. This, Gov. Cox declared emphatically, he would not do. The trouble was diagnosed as speakers' laryngitis.

The physician, Dr. Charles T. Chamberlain, a son of Senator Chamberlain, was called in yesterday after Gov. Cox arrived from Seattle and prescribed massage treatment and obtained a measure who agreed to accompany the democratic nominee on his trip today to Salem, Ore., and possibly continue on the tour.

A crowd of about 100 persons, including many women was at the station when the governor's train arrived early yesterday. But Dr. J. C. Smith, state democratic chairman, after conferring with members of the candidate's party, said that the governor desired more rest and would meet the reception committee later.

Gov. Cox had announced that he desired a quiet Sunday. In company with Senator Chamberlain, he attended Westminster Presbyterian church and listened to a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Pence.

The governor is to speak at Salem this morning and will return to Portland in time to speak here today at noon and again at 8:30.

The governor is to leave tonight for Salt Lake City, but owing to the condition of his voice, it was expected that he would not make any rear platform speeches for two or three days.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH
Large Congregation Here Dean of Harvard Divinity School—Albert Edmund Brown Directs Quartet

A plea that men and women shall show a greater willingness to assume responsibility for their conduct, was the keynote of a sermon by Dean William W. Fenn, of the Harvard Divinity school, yesterday morning, at All Souls' church. The service was the first held in the rebuilt church edifice, and a large congregation was in attendance. There were no formal dedicatory exercises. There was singing by a quartet choir under the direction of Albert Edmund Brown.

In the beginning in the Garden of Eden," said Dean Fenn, "man placed responsibility for wrong doing upon the woman. She passed it on to the serpent. The serpent stood up and took what was handed to him and said nothing. One might make out a good case for the snake, who had been enough not to try to slip out from under the responsibility.

"Children should be trained to a sense of responsibility. In the early days of New England, children were given their share of work to do. Many a sturdy New England character has been built up on the foundation of chores well performed. A father can make fewer greater mistakes than that not to permit his children to make their own decisions and abide by the consequences.

"I would impress upon you a sense of duty and abiding responsibility to God. There is no alternative to doing our duty. Somewhere, somehow, every human soul must fulfill the duty for which it was created."

From pictures taken at a recent Sunday school picnic the pastor and other prominent members of the church were shown taking part in a blue berry pie eating contest. The slide was made from a snapshot taken unawares, of the pastor and his friends, and created much amusement when it was flashed upon the screen. Other pictures showing some of the members eating watermelon, still others garbed in bathing suits enjoying themselves at the seashore and some young men giving a diving exhibition were cast upon the screen. All the stereoscopic pictures were made from snapshots taken by several members of the church while on their vacations.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."

—ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

TWO SISTERS KILLED BY SINGLE BULLET

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 13—Two sisters, the Misses Sadie and Susie Seiter, were shot to death in an automobile near here early yesterday by a crazed man in a United States army uniform. Soon afterward a military posse captured Mike Marakovich, 26 years of age, after he had been shot and badly wounded by one of its members. Marakovich, who wore an army uniform, was recently employed in the Karitan arsenal. He is in a serious condition in a hospital here. A single bullet killed both sisters.

The police say they were being driven home in an automobile by Frank Whitlock, who said they were accosted by a man who carried a rifle and seemed under the influence of liquor. Whitlock said he tried to persuade the man to go away but that he refused, fired a shot at the car and ran away.

Whitlock rushed the sisters to a hospital, where they died. Hospital physicians said the bullet passed through both girls' bodies, striking Sadie, who was in the front seat, and severing her spinal cord, and then piercing the breast of her sister seated in the rear of the car.

It is estimated that to collect one pound of honey 62,000 heads of clover must be deprived of their nectar, making necessary 3,750,000 visits from bees.

DEMAND RELEASE OF MacSWINEY

Huge Crowd at De Valera
Mass Meeting in Boston
Adopt Resolutions

Great Ovation for Irish President and His Wife—Thousands in Parade

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Great mass meetings on Boston common and in Mechanics building, followed a gala parade through Boston streets, in which Eamon De Valera, president of the Irish republic, and Mrs. De Valera were central figures, yesterday featured the most remarkable demonstration for Irish independence ever held in New England.

Through crowded lanes extending for more than three miles, the Irish leader passed under escort of 15,000 men and women from cities and towns of Greater Boston. On the historic parade field of Boston common De Valera spoke first, although few of the thousands hearing his voice there could distinguish his figure. Darkness set in before the great procession terminated, yet the program was carried out.

In Mechanics hall 8000 persons filled the huge auditorium and galleries, packing the structure to such an extent that its capacity was taxed to the limit and police regulations forced other thousands outside to stand in the street. At this great indoor gathering demands were made for the withdrawal of England's soldiers from Ireland. There Britain's acts of coercion were defied and there resolutions were adopted calling for the immediate release from prison of the dying lord mayor of Cork, Terence MacSwiney.

A ten-minute reception, tumultuous cheering and yelling, stamping of feet, waving of flags and the tossing of hats in air greeted De Valera when he was introduced. Similar ovation was accorded Mrs. De Valera. From start to finish the day's program was wreathed in cheers, culminating in the unrestrained outburst at the night's meeting.

Ideal weather marked the day. The De Valera party began the day by attending mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at 10 o'clock in the morning. Cardinal O'Connell presided at the mass, after which he received Mr. De Valera and his wife, meeting them for the first time. The cardinal also presented Mrs. De Valera with an autographed copy of his speeches.

The grand parade, made up of Irish societies, labor organizations and veterans of American wars, and including many women, was nearly two hours late in starting. It was loudly cheered all along the way, and when the common was reached night had set in. The parade never diminished, for many of the divisions stopped as they passed the meeting place of the night gathering.

Today President De Valera will rest at the Copple-Plaza before returning to New York. He has scheduled for the morning and early afternoon a number of important conferences with Irish leaders of the state, and expects to leave Boston at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Optimistic Last Year's Reception

In every respect the reception to President De Valera yesterday far outshone that given to him on his first visit to Boston a year ago last June when he inaugurated his American campaign for recognition of the Irish republic. Greater crowds filled the streets to see him pass. The cheering was more vociferous. Unique was the gathering in the dark on Boston common, and at night the demonstration in the massive Mechanics building was without parallel.

The great night meeting was opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Sherla O'Donovan Rossa, granddaughter of the Irish martyr-patriot, O'Donovan Rossa. Greetings in Gaelic next were offered by Mrs. Nora Mitchell, president of the Boston Minute Women. Then Charles S. O'Connor, member of the Boston school committee, took charge of the meeting, acting as chairman.

His speech stirred the enthusiasm of the thousands packed on the floor and in the balconies of the immense hall. His words condemning the treatment of Terence MacSwiney and Archbishop Mannix by the British government, worked them to such a pitch that they broke into the wildest kind of demonstration when Ireland's leader was presented to them.

The Boston school committeeman fired their spirits and at the same time caused tears to swell up into the eyes of the men and women when he declared that round MacSwiney's bed of pain is marshalled an unseen and countless host of liberty lovers throughout the world—an army that someday will rock England to its very foundation.

"Terence MacSwiney in death," he shouted, will prove in time to come the silent conqueror of Britain." This declaration was answered by cheers after cheer. Men and women jumped to their feet, climbed onto their seats, waved hats and flags in the air and renewed the demonstration, which stopped only after repeated efforts of the presiding officer.

One such outburst followed another. Others came in the course of his speech when he said that the "Irish question is an American question unless liberty has lost its savor in America," and when he declared that "liberty cannot be strangled in Ireland and remain secure in America."

Hisses answered every mention of Lloyd George's name, demonstrations of this sort issuing from the mouths of the thousands sounding as if many hot irons had been thrust suddenly into water. Cheers and groans mingled in the demonstrations with every announcement of Britain's acts in Ireland and that nation's torture of Erin's patriots.

Cardinal's Sentiments Read

Cardinal O'Connell was unable to attend. A letter addressed to Jeremiah Carroll was read to the audience. In it the cardinal said that Ireland's cause is the cause of freedom everywhere, and that is why as free Americans, knowing the blessings of true liberty, we in America stand by Ireland in her glorious struggle, which must soon be crowned with success.

Pres. de Valera was given a reception which visibly affected him. He said in part:

"I am very glad that the committee arranged so that you might hear all the other speakers before I spoke, for this reason: that I regard it as most unfortunate that the only work I can do for Ireland here in America is simply to talk."

"I felt tonight how vain is talk against brute force, and I felt somehow that we here in America would be more effective for Ireland with something that spoke more determinedly than words."

"Lloyd George should be shot for treason by his own court-martials. (Applause.) No Irishman has spoken such treason to the British empire as Lloyd George himself if to speak those things he spoke during the war were treason."

"If it is treason for MacSwiney, according to that British law, to say that nations have a right to rule themselves and the Irish people have a right to rule themselves, then what treason has Lloyd George been guilty of in the four years he has been talking to the world?"

"MacSwiney was found guilty of having in his possession documents which were supposed to stir up sedition in Ireland, sedition against their majesty, King George V. There was no treason uttered by any Irishman calculated to stir up such sedition against that British king as were the words of Lloyd George."

"It was only when I was listening

Depression in Shipping Business in Japan

TOKIO, Sept. 8.—Depression in the shipping business in Japan has become so serious that the government has dispatched officials to Kobe and Osaka, the great shipping centers, in search of remedies. About eighty steamships are tied up at the principal ports of the empire. A prominent shipping official is quoted as saying that the storehouses are choked with goods but nothing is being taken out, so there is no need of steamers.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten" to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the bowels without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Dr. Lewis' Kidney Pills, which I truly believe goes further.

and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Dr. Lewis' Kidney Pills is a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine, and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Dr. Lewis' Kidney Pills from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Dr. Lewis' Kidney Pills for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Dr. Lewis' Kidney Pills (N.R. Tablets) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

The New Triplex Spring Overland

Keeping Up Its Reputation For
Keeping Down The Up-keep!

The burning question today is Gasoline. Obviously, the price will come down when more oil comes up. But that will be only a respite, not a cure.

The fact is, the time has arrived to increase the radius of motor mileage independent of the gas tank. The Overland designers reached that conclusion four years ago. That was not difficult. But the solution was. We will tell you why.

Anyone with a smattering of mechanical knowledge knows that to reduce the weight of a car is to reduce the cost of maintenance.

But, ordinarily, to reduce the weight of a car is to sacrifice the comfort of riding in it; and comfort weighs just as much as economy on a motor ride.

The problem was to combine lightweight economy with heavyweight comfort.

Expert engineering knowledge said it couldn't be done.

The Overland Sedan has an average of 25 miles in 97 cities. That is the reason and this is the season for an Overland Sedan.

That was the tradition that a generation of automobile designers had set up.

And that is the tradition that the Overland designers have upset.

After four years of unrelenting effort, involving millions of dollars in experimentation, and millions more in readjusting the thousandfold activities of the Overland plants to the fundamental change in Overland plans, the most perplexing of automobile problems solved.

Fleet as a cruiser in her light-alloy steels, and suspended securely on the new Triplex Spring—

The Overland is literally a revelation in comfort and a revolution in economy!

You don't know what either comfort or economy is in a lightweight car, till you have ridden in the new Suspension Triplex Spring Overland!

For this is the first time in the history of motoring that economy and comfort have taken the road together!

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
 George Fitzmaurice never produced a more dramatic or well directed play than "The Light to Love," which is featuring the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Starring Mae Murray and David Powell, the production has every asset to make it an immediate success wherever it is shown. Other attractions of the Merrimack Square theatre include "Looking Up Jim," a Christie comedy, "Roman Scandal," the international news and topics of the day.

He has a positive passion for circling the earth, and that is one of the principal reasons why this city chances to get him. He is said to be the equal of Prince, the great London master of sub-vocal art, and that means he is a very top-notch artist.
 Most everybody remembers the Musical Cutty, who were rated very highly in vaudeville some years ago. John Cutty and Nellie Nelson will represent the talented family this week. They are a very popular instrumentalists. Delmar and Kolb have a mammoth offering that is novel, and it is called "One Summer Day," while DeVaro and Ziemer are known far and wide as the flying minstrels. News Kinodrome, Topics of the Day and a scenic will conclude the bill.

THE STRAND
 Two big super-productions of the film will be included in the program of the Strand for the first three days of the week, starting with "Matinee today." The first presents Geraldine Farrar, assisted by her husband, Lou

THE KHALT
 A gem of a picture made from a flawless play by a master of the craft is the way the critics describe "Sweet Lavender," with Miles Minter as the star, and which comes to the theatre for the first three days of the week.
 It is a heart-breaking picture, and nothing has been done to make it really artistic. Miles Minter has thousands of friends and has position on the screen assured. Assisting her is Theodora Roberts, the actress who made the world chuckle by his impersonation of "Male and Female." Roberts is one of the most famous actors on the screen today.
 The second feature is "Crimson Shards," in which Francis Ford takes three different parts. It is a wonder story of mystery and intrigue. In addition, there is the serial "The Bird Eye," and a Sunshine comedy, "Slippery Feet," besides the shorter reels.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
 There's always a novelty of some sort lurking around, and "Mama's Little Girl," the B. F. Keith theatre has secured it for the present week. In "Snapshots," described as "for camera hands," and in which Julian Hall and his well equipped company will be seen. It is known to some as a "rush of tickle femininity," which means that all of the little facts and foibles of the new social sex are exploited artistically. Mr. Hall has assembled everything necessary in the way of costumes, music, dances, and scenery to make a very pretty offering.
 "The Black Ace" is what Frank Peck and Jack McIntyre call their excursion into the fun line. These two men have seen distinguished service as rapid fire comedians and commentators for a number of seasons, and their work is always bright, clean, very funny and new. One does an English aviator; the other is a very frank colored American. The study in contrasts is a very complete affair.
 When it comes to picking a subject for a sketch nothing is any more meaty than the stage. That is why "Story Book Stuff," in which Raymond Bond & Co. will appear has been such a big success. It is called a comedy, although not all of the lines in it are tipped with fun. It is a very effective life study.
 A globe trotting ventriloquist is A. G. Astor, who is including Lowell in his itinerary this year. Astor has given his wonderful act in all climates.

Teller, in "The Woman and the Puppet," an adaptation from the stage success by the renowned French authors, Pierre Louis and Pierre Franca. The role assigned to Farrar is a Spanish dancer of moods, and passions, temperamental, hot-blooded, wild and untamed—until the man she dangles like a puppet, turns and stings her with a blow. Lavishly staged, atmospheric, "The Woman and the Puppet" offers entertainment of an unusually high order. One of the wonderful thrills provided in this picture is "The Servant Question" is one of the greatest drawing cards before the American public today. William Collier. OPERA HOUSE
 Suppose your wife divorced you, married a man whom you had never seen or never knew was in existence and then suppose that the employer of your wife's second husband became infatuated with your former wife and sought to win her away from her husband. And then suppose to further his ends the employer sent the husband on a six months' business trip so that he could play his little game uninterrupted. And then suppose the husband, fearing that his employer might trap the innocent and unsuspecting wife, sent to a detective agency to engage a man to watch and protect his wife, and then suppose that you happened to be the detective engaged for the job. Quite a complication don't you think? But that is only one of many complications that arise in "The Woman from 13," the great human drama that will be presented by the Lowell Players at the Opera House this week. You will say that it is the best play of a melodramatic order that you ever saw, for besides being an exceptionally meritorious stage vehicle, it will offer the players unusual opportunity to demonstrate their dramatic ability. Mr. Bennett will put his best efforts into it, and Miss Fields, the leading woman, Milton Bryan, leading man, and the rest of a very capable cast will be found in congenial roles.

ASSAILED BOLSHIEVISM

David Goldstein and Mrs. Moore Avery Spoke at City Hall Steps

A gathering of several hundred people listened to addresses yesterday afternoon in front of city hall by David Goldstein and Mrs. Martha Moore Avery, who are touring this country in a campaign against Bolshevism and other evils threatening society at the present time.

Mrs. Avery first addressed the audience dealing with the question of socialism, divorce and various issues arising from the world war. She was listened to with close attention and proved to be a very interesting speaker.

Mr. Goldstein delivered a long address following very closely the lines of a former address delivered at Associated Hall about six months ago. His subject was "Bolshevism" which he described as "applied socialism." He pointed out its methods and principles as applied in Russia, showing that it would overthrow Christianity and civilization itself, if extended throughout the world as threatened at the present time by Trotsky and Lenin, its foremost leaders.

The speaker then called attention to the various forms of propaganda by which the doctrine of Bolshevism is being spread throughout other countries than Russia and even through the United States. It appears first in the form of radicalism which asserts itself in opposition to law and order, in organizing labor strikes and advocating a general union of radical forces for the overthrow of established government under the plea of defeating capitalism, which the socialists hold to be one of the greatest enemies of the people.

Mr. Goldstein next referred to the action of the socialists in opposing our government and the conduct of the war. The war was declared on a Friday and on the following day, said the speaker, the socialist party issued a manifesto threatening to conduct a continuous, active and public opposition to the war; proposing first, opposition to all attempts to raise money by the sale of bonds, second to support mass action in opposition to conscription if it were voted into law by the government; third, to set up vigorous resistance to any form of censorship of the press, to promote strikes and to strive against military training in the schools. At the same time, the socialist party pledged itself to extend with greater vigor its campaign for industrial unions which simply meant more energetic support for the I. W. W. and the Russian Bolsheviki.

From this the speaker turned to the attitude of the Catholic church towards the war and quoted from Cardinal Gibbons and Cardinal O'Connell in their pulpits utterances on the Sunday following the declaration of war.

On the Tuesday following, he stated, the bishops of the Catholic church addressed to President Wilson a document pledging loyal support in every effort to stand true to our government, our country and our flag. The call of the Catholic hierarchy on that occasion urging all Catholics to loyal and patriotic service in support of the government was read by the speaker. The concluding sentence was: "We are all Americans, ready as our age, our ability and our condition permit, to do whatever is in us to do, for the preservation, the progress and the triumph of our beloved country. May God direct and guide our president and our government. Out of this trying crisis in our national life may at length come a closer union among all the citizens of America and an enduring and blessed peace may crown the sacrifices which war inevitably entails.

The speaker described the evils of a dictatorship of the proletariat as seen in Russia tearing down every vestige of organized industry in its fury to destroy so-called capitalism. He then made an appeal for strict economic justice as between capital and labor which are mutually dependent upon each other. Capital is entitled to fair profit and labor to a wage sufficient for the ordinary comforts of life and to enable the toiler to educate his family instead of putting them to work at an early age.

In conclusion Mr. Goldstein referred to the divorce bill as one that threatens the disruption of society by weakening the bonds of family life. He gave statistics which indicated a rapid growth in the number of divorces during the past year as compared with previous years.

RELIEF SUPPLIES STOLEN

Goods Valued at Thousands Lost by American Organization in Near East

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—(By Associated Press)—Supplies valued at many hundreds of thousands of dollars have been stolen from the American organization for relief in the Near East during the recent past, according to evidence placed before Charles Allen, American consul here, who is investigating. These losses have been partly due to the work of dishonest employees of the organization in Amman and Ararat, but the more serious indications that while the goods have been in transit between the United States and their final destination, they have been subjected to theft.

 Cases of condensed milk taken over from army contract supplies in the United States have been found to contain only three-quarters of the number of cans called for in the bills of lading. The spaces in these cases have been filled with American newspapers of recent date. It is related that on the body of an Armenian chauffeur who had been shot by bandits, was found a letter from a relief worker to a superior officer, stating that in one shipment of supplies there was a shortage of goods valued at $40,000.

GILLESPIES WIN TITLE

Defeat South Ends and Take City Championship, $100 and Cup

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a ball game in this city saw the Gillespies win the Twilight League championship, a purse of $100 and a beautiful silver loving cup, at Spalding park Saturday afternoon after a hard fought battle, by the score of 1 to 0.

The teams went through the regular league schedule to a tie, each winning 5 and losing 2 games, and the playoffs were necessary to determine the title holder. The teams presented excellent lineups and the spectators of both clubs as well as many neutral fans who had greatly enjoyed the league games, turned out in thousands to witness the grand finale.

The game and the tactics, too, came armed with all kinds of noise provoking instruments and they used them frequently throughout the nine inning battle.

The Gillespies got the jump at the outset and they maintained the lead to the finish. The South Ends staged a comeback in the eighth that gave their supporters a chance to cheer, but the Gillespies tightened and refused to relinquish the lead.

Sammy Poulton, twirled for the Gillespies and his superb pitching was the main factor in the South End defeat. He had a world of stuff, was cool at all times, and seemed to be at his best in the pinches. He allowed but four scattered hits, and had good control at all times. Seldom has a local semi-professional worked to better advantage.

The South End players and rooters tried hard to unnerve the big fellow, but he refused to yield. His exhibition would do credit to a big major league pitcher. Poulton's confidence and masterful pitching always came to the rescue to prevent disaster. The Gillespies were steady and hit well and in the final analysis played better ball than the South Ends and deserved the victory. Smith (a third baseman) was the star of the game, while his triple to deep center was the hitting feature of the day.

"Bing" Falls was on the rubber for the common entry and he, too, pitched good ball. He let the Gillespies down with six hits, but two of them were triples, and these proved his undoing. "Bing" was second for the South Ends played a high class fielding game, and came through in the eighth with a big error that secured the first South End run.

Bridgeford contributed the feature work in the outfield. He got under the ball and looked good for hits as the balls bounced off the bilbies, and by perfect throws nipped runners for double plays. He nailed one at third after a shoe at the plate and another at the plate after taking one a difficult angle. Liston caught a fine game and injected considerable pep into the play. Jenkins at shortstop was the weak link in the South End defense and his two errors played an important part in the team's downfall.

Nickie Coughlin who officiated as umpire gave general satisfaction. He kept the players on their toes all the way and ran off the game with big league precision. Mayor Thompson, who has been an enthusiastic fan all season and Frank Ricard, who donated the handsome cup, formally opened the game, the mayor throwing the first ball and Ricard receiving it behind the plate. The score:

Oh, you Pete:

Remember Ratty Waters who tied the dishpan under Prof. Bunn's car at Princeton? He's more seriously inclined now. He's selling bonds! Ran smack into Ratty as he was hustling for his a.m. fodder with a Camel cigarette perched between his lips and looking happy like a turtle on a log. It's a pretty art, this opening up the morning with a Camel!

Well sir, Pete, what Ratty rattled into my raften would. supply Camel selling stuff for a year! "There's nothing to this cigarette game but Camels", said Ratty. "Their mellowness is a revelation and I never did run into such mildness in my life. And, when you figure that Camels have all the 'body' any smoker wants—well, I just marvel that such a cigarette could be made! Did you ever get such a refreshing flavor?"

Pete, it was great to hear Ratty sing the praises of Camels quality. And, what a mouthful he said about Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos!

For instance, Ratty spread this: "Shorty, I can't stand the usual unpleasant cigarette aftertaste and unpleasant cigarette odor! Camels are free from both! (oox ox, Pete!) And, they never tire my taste! When you pass by Camels you have slipped by your smoke signals!"

Tried to get Ratty to put some of that sales talk on paper, but he came back:—"You tell 'em, old Kettle, you've got the spout!"

Pete, Camels won Ratty's favor like they've won thousands of others! They'll win any man who gives them a chance!

THE HEART SOCK DEMPSEY'S

By DEAN SNYDER
The Heart-Sock! What is it? Page Jack Dempsey, its keeper.
It is fundamentally a blow leveled just below the heart.
The effects of this particular kind of sock produce a willing sensation, a slipping away of interest. The hope spark fades from the eye of the bird on the receiving end. All dreams of crowns and big purses peter out.

The heart-sock trade-mark postpones all aspirations of gods who would cope with the title and enter the movies for some easy kale.

It Got Willard
This was the blow that sent Jess Willard on his way to defeat at Toledo. It took all the fight out of him. He lost heart and interest in Dempsey's game after he took one.

The same thing happened to Billy Harbor when he received this brand of knite taken from Dempsey at Denon Harbor.

Miske felt the heart-sock in the first round with the champion. He brought down his guard to the tender spot and cried out with pain. Dempsey let him live out the round.

Toppled Miske
In the second round the champion shot the same kind of a blow through which careened Miske across the ring and down for half the round. Having taken all the fight out of the challenger the champion finished the job in the third round by applying the work-manship to Miske's chin.

That's what the heart-sock actually does when applied. It is the most dead-

"BABE RUTH" OF WEST CALLED "MUSCLES"

EVERETT YARYAN

The above picture shows that Everett Yaryan, home-run hitter of the Western league, has a keen pair of eyes. The inset shows his grip when he connects for a four-ply knock.

Out in the middle west where wheat and corn are the principle crops they also produced a home-run hitter this year.

He is Everett Yaryan, catcher for Frank Isbell's Wichita ball club in the Western league. The big fellow finished the month of August with a total of 26 four-ply knocks. His batting average registered .354. He poled out six the last week of the month.

Western fans do not call him the "Babe Ruth" of the league, as might be expected, but refer to their swatter as "Muscles" and "Strength" and "Yanyan."

On top of all his slugging glory Yaryan ranks with George Shestak of the St. Joe club, as being one of the league's best receivers.

He is 25 years old. Four years ago he came to the Wichita club as a rookie. Frank Isbell and Joe Berger showed him how the game was played and he proved a good pupil.

The Wichita club has had several offers from the majors for the "Babe Ruth" hitter of the circuit and the fans are settling back to the realization that the slugging backstop is playing his last year in the minors.

The Bay State mill, another branch of the American Woolen company is still operating on short time as it has been doing for the past five or six weeks. The Wamsutter mill is still shut down tight, but it is expected that within a week or ten days operations will be resumed there. SUCH IS LIFE

See the little boys.
Are they happy little boys?

No, they are not happy little boys. Why are they not happy little boys? Ding dong! Ding dong! Ding dong! That's why they're not happy little boys.

Old school bell is ringing. Ringing for them. Ringing the knell on all-day play, on swimmin' parties an' picnics. Ringing in a flock of tough hours with 'ritin' lessons, an' 'ritin' lessons.

Is anybody happy on a sad day like this? Lots o' folks are tickled pink. You said it.

The mothers, Crinances. The mothers are glad little Willie and Tommie are going back to school. So is the neighbor next door who gets so vexed every time a baseball breaks one of her windows.

So is the teacher who is never happy unless she's catching a feller throwing paper wads or whispering. But, is any little boy in all this broad land of ours happy when the blamed old school bell rings out? Yes, there is one. Here he is.

Why is this lad happy? Well, this is why: Because he never before went to school. The poor fish thinks going to school is fine business.

their moral support to Ireland, Boston Italians, men, women and children, who packed Faneuil hall yesterday afternoon, stood with bowed heads in solemn manifestation of their profoundest sympathy for Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

The occasion was the celebration of the first anniversary of Gabriele d'Annunzio's entrance into Fiume and his recent proclamation of the city's independence. Virtually all available space in the hall was filled. The meeting was characteristically replete with demonstrations at every mention of Italy and America. Especially demonstrative was the audience when Attorney Felix Forte predicted Ireland's independence, pointing out that that country's battle for self-determination is as much justifiable if not more than Fiume's.

At this juncture Anthony Dentamaro, presiding officer, called for a rising vote pledging support to Ireland. As a unit the audience rose. Men waved their hats, women their handkerchiefs. From every section came shouts of "Long live Ireland!" Then, at the request of Mr. Dentamaro, the audience stood with bowed heads in mute evidence of their sympathy for Lord Mayor MacSwiney. Usually Gault, a North End backer, stirred his listeners to repeated applause with tributes to America, Ireland and Italy.

He is Everett Yaryan, catcher for Frank Isbell's Wichita ball club in the Western league. The big fellow finished the month of August with a total of 26 four-ply knocks. His batting average registered .354. He poled out six the last week of the month.

Western fans do not call him the "Babe Ruth" of the league, as might be expected, but refer to their swatter as "Muscles" and "Strength" and "Yamyam."

On top of all his slugging glory Yaryan ranks with George Shestak of the St. Joe club, as being one of the league's best receivers.

He is 25 years old. Four years ago he came to the Wichita club as a rookie. Frank Isbell and Joe Berger showed him how the game was played and he proved a good pupil.

The Wichita club has had several offers from the majors for the "Babe Ruth" hitter of the circuit and the fans are settling back to the realization that the slugging backstop is playing his last year in the minors.

SUCH IS LIFE
See the little boys.
Are they happy little boys?

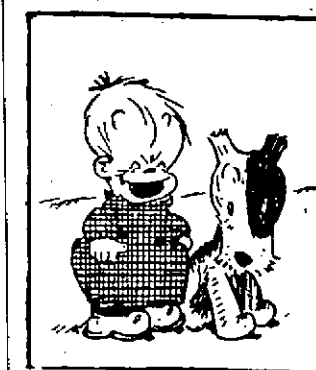

Old school bell is ringing.
Ringing for them.
Ringing the knell on all-day play,
On swimmin' parties an' picnics.
Ringing in a flock of tough hours
With 'rhythmic, an' readers, an' 'ritin' lessons.

Is anybody happy on a sad day
Like this?
Lots o' folks are tickled pink.
You said it.
The mothers, 'rinstance.

The mothers are glad little Willie and Tommie are going back to school.
So is the neighbor next door who gets so peeved every time a baseball breaks one of her windows.
So is the teacher who is never happy unless she's catching a fellow throwing paper wads or whispering.

But, is any little boy in all this broad land of ours happy when the blamed old school bell rings out?
Yes, there is one.

BODY OF HEIRESS FOUND

Loosened From Bed of Potomac After Fleet of Tugs Had Churned up Waters

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Loosened from the bed of the Potomac after a fleet of tugs had been used to churn up the waters, the body of Mrs. Gertrude Viger Kuehling, heiress to a part of a million dollar estate in Detroit, was found yesterday by one of the scores of canoeists engaged in the search, but her husband, Roy H. Kuehling, still was held last night by the police pending the result of the inquest.

On the body there were no marks indicating that death had been caused by any means other than drowning. Kuehling was arrested early Thursday after he had reported to the police that his wife was drowned, while they were canoeing Wednesday night. The police announced the suspicion that the death or disappearance of the woman might not have been an accident, after learning of several circumstances regarded by them as too significant to ignore without investigation.

The canoe capsized in relatively shallow water, according to Kuehling's story, but he was unable to save his wife. The police developed a case in which Kuehling and his wife, whom he had married after she was divorced from George Osgood of Detroit, were made to appear as having frequently quarreled and to this was added the declaration of an attorney that he had been instructed by Mrs. Kuehling to begin a suit for divorce charging cruelty.

Mrs. Kuehling's former husband, who is a Detroit real estate dealer, came to Washington late last week to assist in the search for the body and, as he told the police, to aid in clearing up the case. He identified the body yesterday when it was brought from the water.

WOMAN HELD FOR SHOOTING AT BANGOR

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 13.—Percy Campbell of Lincoln died in a hospital here yesterday from the effects of a bullet wound in the head, and Mrs. Myrtle Quint of Bangor was held under arrest charged with the shooting. She will be given a hearing in the municipal court at Lincoln later this week. County Attorney Blanchard announced that the woman had admitted that she had pointed a revolver at Campbell, but asserted that it was discharged when he hit the weapon with his hand.

The county attorney said Mrs. Quint told him that Campbell and his brother Fred went out with her two daughters, Leonice, 13 years old and Marie, 17, Saturday afternoon to gather choke cherries. She had told the girls to return in half an hour, but they did not come home until the evening.

According to her story, when they drove into the yard in a motor truck she told the two men to leave and never come there again. She said Fred started off, but Percy refused to go and made an insulting remark. She then drew from the apron pocket a revolver which she said she had found while house cleaning Saturday, and pointed it at Percy. Mrs. Quint told the county attorney that Percy leaped from the truck and tried to hit her, but his hand struck the revolver in such a way that it was discharged and he fell with a bullet in his head. A doctor was called and he was brought to the city, where he died in the hospital.

The two girls told the county attorney that they had been insulted by the men. Percy Campbell was 37 years of age.

BIG DIVIDENDS BY SUGAR COMPANIES

SAN JUAN, P. R., Sept. 13.—Dividends declared by the South Porto Rico Sugar company and the Fajardo Sugar company, which it was announced recently in New York, would reach 100 per cent. are not the only large sugar dividends that are being declared this year.

The Santa Isabel Sugar company has declared a cash dividend of 100 per cent, which is probably the highest dividend that will be paid by any sugar company in Porto Rico this year. Other sugar properties may yield a return equal to or in excess of the Santa Isabel dividend but so far they have not been reported as having been declared in the form of dividends.

The Santa Isabel dividend is all in cash, while the dividend of South Porto Rico Sugar company has been declared in the form of a stock dividend, new common stock being issued for each share of common stock now outstanding. The 100 per cent. in cash and 70 per cent. in stock.

Most of the sugar companies in the island, it is believed, will declare dividends that will probably reach 50 per cent.

Schools Open for Fall Term registration this year will probably exceed by about 100 the figures for last year, when the rolls carried the names of 1472 students.

Every seat in the main high school was taken and to each room had been assigned five or six more pupils than there are seats for. It is anticipated that later there will be names dropped from the rolls and that there will be vacancies for the extra students for whom no seats are now available in the rooms to which they have been assigned.

Not only was every seat taken in the main building, but there were classes reciting on each side of the platform in the assembly hall.

Later, as pupils develop evidences of being backward in Latin and algebra, probationary classes will be started, with special teachers, that will have to meet in the corridors.

Every Seat Taken

In the high school annex every seat was taken, and there was a large overflow into annex No. 1 on Kirk street. Two rooms in the Kirk street primary school are also being occupied. Only one of these is suitable for use as a "home room," or place where the pupil keeps his books and a record of his school work is kept.

The work of the physical training department is being carried on in the athletic house of St. Anne's church.

There was only one change in the teaching force at the high school. Miss Helen Lambert, a former teacher at the school, who has been engaged in private school work for several years, took the place made vacant by the removal of William P. Boland to Waterbury, Conn. She is to teach chemistry.

There are now 10 women and 15 men teachers at the school. It is stated that the pay of the women teachers is at least $200 per year less than the average for similar services in Massachusetts, and the opinion is expressed that there will be considerable desertions from the teaching staff unless the salaries are given an additional lift.

The commercial department at the high school showed the largest increase in registration today. This was in line with a trend that has been noticeable for several years.

Sports to Come Later

No effort was made today, beyond talking the matter over, to get a program of sports started. It was stated, however, that candidates for the football eleven would be called out in a few days.

The hours at the school this year are to be as follows: Freshman class, 8.55 a. m. to 12.55 p. m.; upper classes, 8.40 a. m. to 1.40 p. m. In the case of the freshmen, they will be dismissed directly from the rooms in which they happen to be located at the closing of the school day and they will not be obliged to return to their "home rooms," as will be the case with the members of the upper classes.

It had been expected that a portable building being erected at the Edison school would be ready for use today, but the building is incomplete and it will be some time before it is ready for use.

It is not expected that the addition being made to the Morse school will be ready for use before the first of the year.

Teaching Staff Changes

The principal changes in the teaching staff of the elementary schools were at the Greenbridge and Butler schools. At the former John G. Wolcott took the place made vacant by the resignation of former headmaster Arthur K. Whitcomb. At the latter Chas. E. Delorme filled the vacancy in the headmastership caused by the transfer of Thomas Ginty to the headmastership of the continuation school.

The problem of heating the schools during the winter appears to have been satisfactorily disposed of. It is understood that the mayor has authorized considerable purchases of fuel of late and that enough is now either in sight or in the schoolhouse bins to keep the furnaces running during the winter.

Most of the pupils who appeared for registration in the schools this morning were provided with vaccination certificates. During the summer vaccination has been going on every week day except Saturday at the health department rooms at the rate of 50 to 75 cases a day. During the last few days there has been a falling off in the number of cases, indicating, it is believed, that most of the children of school age have been made immune to the con-tion. Any unvaccinated children can receive attention at the health department headquarters any afternoon except Saturday between the hours of 4 and 5.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

Lowell Evening High School

Courses—School will open on Monday Evening, Oct. 4.

The fall session of the Lowell Evening High School will open on Monday evening, October 4. Registration for former pupils of the school will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings, September 23 and 24, at 7 o'clock, in the high school building in Kirk street, while registration of all others will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, September 27, 28, 30 and October 1, at 7 o'clock in high school building, on which evenings entrance examinations will be held. Former students must bring their term cards with them.

New students will be admitted to the school only on grammar school diplomas, or on certificates from other schools of like standing, or on certificate from a grammar school showing the completion of seventh grade work. All others must take the entrance examinations.

The courses writing offered are the advanced course, diploma for three years' work; regular course, diploma for three years' work; stenography course, diploma for three years' prescribed work; manual training course, diploma for three years' prescribed work; civil service course, no diploma.

The course in stenography has always been favored by students, while the course in bookkeeping, the work of which is exactly like the work in the day high school, has also had a large registration.

High letter writing, copying from plain copy and rough draft, reading from dictation, reading addresses and United States geography. The manual training course comprises mechanical drawing, carpenter and lathe work.

In the stenography course certificates will be issued to all members of the class who acquire a speed of 50 words per minute on new copy. To be eligible for this test a pupil must have been in attendance at least three-fourths of the sessions of schools preceding the date of the test.

RECRUITS FOR ARMY

Clifford R. MacDonald, 695 Middlesex street, enlisted at the recruiting station this morning for three years' service with the infantry in Germany. John J. Healy, who gave his address as 328 West Second South, Salt Lake City, Utah, was also enlisted this morning at the army station for general recruiting service in Boston.

Healy had had over 21 years' service with the quartermaster corps in Camp Devens.

OBSERVING THE LAW

Agent Frank O'Hare, of the board of health stated this morning that no special complaints had been made to the department recently regarding the display of food products for sale not properly screened. The law provides that all berries, cut melons, meat, fags, dates, dried and preserved fruits, candies, nutmegs, cut meat, fish and certain other food articles must be protected from dust and flies when offered for sale in open windows and doorways. It was stated by Agent O'Hare that he, the members of the board of health and five inspectors are on the constant lookout for violators of this law. He stated that the same was true regarding the offering for sale of unripe or decayed fruit.

FARE ADJUSTMENT BY STREET RAILWAY

The new rates of fare on the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company lines in this city, as stated in an advertisement appearing elsewhere, will become operative in this city on Wednesday of this week.

This change is to meet the increased expense of higher wages paid out to employees, according to statements from the office of the local manager, and, as stated by the trustees of the company as soon as the wage award was announced, was made public within 48 hours.

The 16 ride dollar tickets will be replaced by 14 ride dollar tickets. Along with this change comes the announcement that all other tickets, including workmen's commutation tickets, but with the exception of pupils' tickets, which provide rides at half rates, will be withdrawn.

The intention of the company to have the 14 ride ticket answer all purposes, all transfers will also be eliminated so that this will necessitate more use of the tickets.

The 16 ride tickets will be no good for passage after Tuesday night, but may be redeemed after that time at the railway office in Prescott street.

The conductors will be supplied with the new 14-ride tickets on Wednesday morning. Two punches on the 14 ride tickets will pay for passage to suburban points and to Tyngsboro. In other respects they will be the same as the 16-ride tickets.

The rumor that free transportation to employees of the railway company would not be furnished in the future was denied by Local Manager Thomas Lees this morning. "Contrary to the statement made by 'Boston papers,'" he said, "our employees will be allowed free transportation."

Of the 55,000,000 cigarettes manufactured in this country last year 39,000,000,000 were consumed here.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused By Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and acid right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisulphated Magnesia (in liquid or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

While there were indications the men generally were splitting their vote, the women remained in the booths as considered an indication they had made up their minds before leaving the polling places for whom to vote and that they were doing little if any cutting.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—This is the children's fashion season, and now that the older ones have been outfitted and prepared for school, mother's thoughts turn to clothes for the smaller fry—the four-to-sixes. So here is a suggestion to help her along.

The small boy's suit of the sketch is soft wool-colored duvetyne, a coat with a wide collar and two smashing pockets, and as a man of his size needs so much, and a rakish hat which is also of the duvetyne. The belt extends clear around and the pockets are honest-to-goodness ones.

EYES OF NATION ON MAINE TODAY
Voters Went to the Polls
Today to Elect State, County and National Officers
Republicans Claim Victory by 30,000 Plurality—Democrats Confident

Portland Women Had Cast as Many Ballots as Men up to Noon

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—Maine voters, both men and women, went to the polls today for the election of state and county officers, a legislature and congressmen with the realization that the eyes of the nation were upon them to give the traditional indication of political sentiment in the country in the presidential election year.
The weather was clearing after Sunday's rain and all indications pointed to a heavy vote. Both parties expressed confidence in the result, but the republicans claimed victory by a 30,000 plurality, while the democrats indulged in no figures. The issue of the campaign have been national with chief emphasis placed on the League of Nations.
For the first time women voted in this state, and thousands of them who had pushed to the registration booths and been placed on the voting lists since the legislature adopted the registration enabling act two weeks ago, exercised the right of franchise today. Both parties claimed the support of this new element.
For governor, Frederic H. Parkhurst of Bangor, republican, is opposed by Bertrand G. McIntyre of Norway, democrat. All four congressmen in this state are republicans and three are standing for re-election. Congressman Louis H. Goodall is retiring in the first district and Carroll L. Beedy, county attorney, is running for the republicans against Frank H. Haskell, democrat. In the second district, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., is opposed by Dr. Wallace N. Price. In the

CLOTHING STORE CLOSED
Putnam and Son Company
Makes Assignment for Benefit of Creditors

The Putnam and Son Clothing company, of Central street, has made an assignment to Lawyer James J. Kerwin of this city, for the benefit of its creditors. In accordance with this action which has been recorded at city hall, the store was closed this morning for stock-taking. When asked this noon as to the length of time the store would be closed or the time necessary for the stock taking, Lawyer Kerwin could not state. Although it is said that the status of the company is in no great danger, it is understood that the stock taking and assignment was voluntarily ordered by the corporation, to avoid further difficulties. The result of the stock taking will determine the condition of the company. The Putnam & Son company is one of the oldest, if not the very oldest clothing store in the city, having been established nearly a half century ago and there are many Lowell people who will regret the turn that things have taken. The company was known everywhere for its honest dealing, the courtesy of its employees and the very friendly and painstaking attitude of the manager, Frank Putnam, who has been in failing health for some time and who is now ill at his home in North Tewksbury.

CARD. GIBBONS URGES WOMEN TO VOTE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—Women should vote "not only as a right but as a duty," Cardinal Gibbons said to newspapermen today.
"While I always have been opposed to woman suffrage, because I felt that the more delicate and more sacred pursuits of home life," he said, "now that they have been given the vote, I urge upon all of them the exercise of that suffrage not only as a right, but as a duty. They should exercise that duty intelligently."
It is their duty, both to register and vote, and especially in the coming presidential election. They should vote for the candidate who will, in his opinion, contribute best to the material and social progress of the state.

CARSON'S BIRTHPLACE IN GALWAY, IRE., BURNED

BELFAST, Sept. 13.—Castle Lambert House in Athlery, county Galway, where Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, was born, was burned today, presumably by Sinn Feiners. Galway has been placed under the curfew law, making six Irish cities under this law. The others are Belfast, Dublin, Londonderry, Cork and Limerick. A number of smaller towns and villages are also included.

"OMO TOKYO" EXTREME FORM OF SOCIALISM

TOKIO, Sept. 10.—"Omo Tokyo," a new mysterious religion in Japan, is an extreme form of socialism aimed at the destruction of the existing social order, according to Kakuj Kato, a merchant who made a secret pilgrimage to Ayado, the village headquarters of the sect. The leading adherents of the cult, Kato reported, are retired and discontented military men. He said the tomb of the sect founder bears a striking resemblance to the Imperial mausoleum at Modyama.
Kato said he spent 90 days among the Omo Tokyos and made his escape with difficulty.

TAKING A "FLYER"

THIS is the special sport of people, who have not yet learned how to fly, even as it is the man who can't swim, that risks the boat. Strange but true that most of those who take flyers cannot afford to take a fall. The rich don't do it; hence perhaps the richness. Flying with a limited capital and no experience is dangerous, not alone because it dissipates your resources, but because it paralyzes your prospects of GETTING UP AGAIN.
Ordinary mortals do well to play safe. Play a Savings Account. One that plays 5% RETURN looks reasonable, good and ample to us. Meanwhile, let your "flying" experience wait.

32ND DAY OF HUNGER STRIKE

Lord Mayor MacSwiney in State of Collapse and Exhaustion Today

Wife, Sisters and Brother Send Appeal to U. S. Ambassador and Other Envoys

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was in a state of collapse and exhaustion today at Brixton prison, where he is continuing his hunger strike in protest against his arrest by British authorities. This is the 32nd day of his fast. He passed a bad and restless night, according to a bulletin issued early today by the Irish self-determination league.
At mid-afternoon, Mayor MacSwiney's condition had not altered materially. The league's bulletin stated that he continued very prostrate and exhausted.
Mrs. MacSwiney, wife of the lord mayor, his sisters Mary and Annie, and his brother Sean, have addressed an appeal to the American ambassador and the heads of the other embassies and legations in London for submission to their governments. It calls attention to the case of the lord mayor and that of the 11 hunger strikers at Cork, and expressed the hope that the united councils of the nations addressed, "will prevent the tragedy now pending and thereby calm the peoples of the world."
The letter deals fully with Mayor MacSwiney's case from the date of his arrest to the present time, and says: "Lord Mayor MacSwiney was murdered for the same reason for which Lord Mayor MacSwiney is being murdered now—because he was fighting for self-determination for his country. If the present tragedy is allowed to proceed we are confronted with the unparalleled crime of two lord mayors of the same city being murdered within six months of each other by a supposedly civilized government."
"We are of the opinion that this is of grave concern for all governments. Owing to the very close relations existing between modern nations, a government outrage in one country reacts in another. It is clear to us that if the crimes now perpetrated in Ireland in the name of the English government are tolerated, the foundations of the governments of all nations will be imperilled."

SPREAD OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—A spread of infantile paralysis in the vicinity of this city which, while not an epidemic, has caused some concern among health officials, is announced by the state department of health.
A total of 87 cases in the state was reached with the addition of 14 new cases in reports received today. The number of cases is the greatest in this state since the epidemic of 1916. Department of health officials this afternoon held a conference with the Harvard university special commission on infantile paralysis to discuss means of checking the spread of the disease.

AMERICAN WOOLEN MILLS REOPENED TODAY

LAWRENCE, Sept. 13.—The official reopening of the four local plants of the American Woolen Co., which shut down July 10, took place today, but as many of the plants had already started preparatory work, it was said by the local agents that there was little addition to the working force today, as no preliminary work was not far enough along to make it possible to run all departments yet.
It will be several days before the plant can be run in full.
Agent Walter M. Lamont of the Wood mills, the largest plant of the company here, said that his plant had been in operation since Aug. 12, and that there was no increase in the force today.
None of the officials would say what percentage of the workers had been given employment but it was estimated that less than 60 per cent of the force is employed today.

DIDN'T HAVE TIME TO SOBER OFF

Once upon a time an Indian went bawling. The woman whose house he visited smelled liquor and told him he was drunk. He allowed that he had been drinking and she told him that if he ever came to her house again with the smell of sign of liquor on him she would turn him out and would never again assist him. A month later the same Indian visited the same woman and his condition was the same as on his former visit. She accused him of being drunk and reminded him of what she had said. "Now you must go," she continued, "because you are drunk again."
"No, Missus, please," said the Indian, "I must drink again—same old drunk."

Old timers were reminded of this story at the criminal session of the superior court today when the case of a Lowell man who had appealed a lower court sentence to the state farm, was called.

Supt. Welch informed the court that the defendant was arrested in Lowell Aug. 29 for drunkenness and the next morning he was released by the probation officer. On Aug. 30 he was again arrested for drunkenness and was placed in the care of the probation officer. On Sept. 1 he was brought in for the third time, again on a charge of drunkenness and when sentenced to the state farm he appealed.

GIRL HIDDEN 17 YEARS

Officers Begin Probe to Place Blame for Condition of Cripple Found in Cellar

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 13.—State and county authorities today began an investigation to determine the persons responsible for the condition of Marie Kolwizski, a cripple, aged 13, who they said, had kept hidden 17 years in the cellar of her home here.
Officials said she has the physical appearance of a child of six, and her limbs are twisted and shriveled and her face gaunt and discolored. The girl was found in a crib in a corner of the cellar, covered with a quilt. The only light came from one small window.
Authorities reported that the upper part of the house was clean and comfortable. There are three other children in the family. The girl's stepfather, Steve Zarb, is a railroad employee.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PANIC STRICKEN

Thousands of Panes of Glass Broken, Homes and Stores Flooded, Crops Destroyed

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 13.—Damage estimated at over a million dollars was done by a heavy hail and thunder storm, accompanied by a 45-mile gale in a narrow area extending through Cranston, Warwick and East Providence this morning. Hundreds of thousands of panes of glass were broken, the interior of homes and business establishments were flooded, and fruit trees were denuded of their crops. Occurring on the opening day of the public schools, several hundred children were made almost panic stricken, and after the storm they were allowed to go home. Street car, telephone and electric lights and power service was interrupted. The hailstones in some sections measured one and one-half inches in diameter. The foliage was stripped from trees. A market gardener in Cranston estimated his loss at $200,000, while one factory near there reported 2000 panes of glass broken.

NEW HOSPITAL READY FOR OCCUPANCY

It was stated at the mayor's office this morning, that arrangements are now practically complete for the opening of the new contagious hospital. The building, that has a capacity of over 100 beds, is practically ready for occupancy. There has been some difficulty in securing a staff of nurses and other employees to operate the hospital, but it is understood that this has at last been overcome.
Dr. Foster H. Smith and Mrs. Smith have already taken up their residence at the new hospital.
Although no definite date has been set, it is expected that the transfer of patients to the hospital will begin in the near future. Lowell tuberculosis patients are now being cared for at the state sanatoriums in Rutland, Lakeville, Westfield and North Reading, and at the municipal hospitals in Lawrence and Lynn. No information was available at the mayor's office as to the number of patients at the different institutions. It is known, however, that most of them are anxious to be transferred to Lowell at the earliest possible date in order that they may be nearer their homes and friends.
It is stated that there is an abundant supply of fuel at the hospital—upwards of 1000 tons—to keep it warm during the winter.

$200,000, while one factory near there reported 2000 panes of glass broken.

Revised Fares—Lowell District EFFECTIVE WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1920

A 21½% increase in wages having been awarded the employees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. by a majority of the Board of Arbitration your Public Trustees cannot escape the necessity of immediately revising fares in the Lowell District, where we are obliged to obtain $170,000 additional revenue annually, in order to keep the cars in operation.

Under this unexpectedly large Award, we are also compelled to pay the Lowell District employees $55,000 in four (4) months' back wages, the 21½% increase being retroactive to May 1st.

In the new schedule of fares we feel it is our duty to protect as far as possible the regular, all-the-year-round and short distance riders. Therefore the largest part of the unavoidable burden is placed upon the occasional and long distance riders.

Transfers at Merrimack Square discontinued, single fares, both ticket and cash, being good to Merrimack Square only.

Central zone ticket changed to 14 rides for $1.00. This ticket may be used for rides between Merrimack Square and points in the first interurban zone on all routes by having the ticket punched twice.

All interurban zone fares changed to 10c, but the 14-For-$1 ticket may be used in payment of interurban zone fares where the ride covers more than one such zone.

For rides in zones between Nutting's Pond, Billerica and Woburn a 12-zone ticket for $1.00 will be used in place of the 14 for $1.00.

Limited commutation tickets withdrawn.

WITHDRAWN OR CHANGED TICKETS WILL NOT BE GOOD FOR FARE AFTER TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14TH, BUT MAY BE REDEEMED AT PLACES TO BE ANNOUNCED.

The Public Trustees wish to express their appreciation of the co-operation of the Public and the valuable assistance rendered by the Home Rule Committee. With their continued help we will make every effort to supply good service at as low cost as high wages and high cost of coal will permit.

SAME SWEATER, LOOK AND EVERYTHING

When Jack Dempsey entered the ring at Benton Harbor to defend his title against Billy Miske, Labor day, he wore the same old red sweater that he climbed between the ropes at Toledo. That little part of the champion's wardrobe is a sort of good omen to him—at least, he thinks so. You will also note the sullen look on his face.

DEMAND NEW LAWS ALL CORK TURNS OUT FOR VOLUNTEER'S FUNERAL

Workmen Call for Immediate Convocation of Italian Parliament

MILAN, Sept. 13.—Immediate convocation of the Italian parliament for the purpose of passing laws under which workmen may take over management of industrial plants has been demanded by the Confederation of labor, in session here.

"We demand," this resolution read, "immediate convocation of the chamber of deputies in order that the situation may be examined and laws proposed which will bring about radical legislative measures which, through requisition of industrial plants and participation in their management by workmen, will prepare the way for direct control of workers in the interests of collectivity."

This resolution was telegraphed to the president of the chamber and the premier.

Gambling on the weather is common among the natives of India.

CORK, Sept. 13.—(By Associated Press)—The funeral of Seamus Quirke, a young volunteer, killed in Thursday's disturbances at Galway, brought out practically every able-bodied man and woman in Cork yesterday afternoon. There were large numbers of children also, but there was an entire absence of disorder. The military, as on the occasion of the funeral of the slain Lord Mayor MacCurtain here last April, remained in barracks.

Not a single soldier was seen in the streets throughout the day and the only bit of khaki visible was that of a dozen men on guard duty on the parapet of the wall, which lies back about 300 yards from the road along which the cortege moved.

Whether by accident or design the hearse and company of uniformed volunteers heading the long procession stopped for a few minutes at the intersection of a by-road leading to the jail, and all eyes were turned in the direction of the huge stone building where the hunger strikers are slowly dying.

The streets of Cork and the long route to the cemetery were lined with spectators as the funeral procession, in which probably 6000 men and women marched, passed. The cathedral of Adelaide was among the high church dignitaries and hundreds of priests and monks making up the clerical contingent. Men prominent here in every walk of life were among the marching hosts.

The only notes of color in the drab sombre pageant were supplied by the Gaelic kilts, bands, with bagpipes and muffled drums, which played unceasingly the plaintive Irish dirge: "Wrap the green flag around me, boys—to die—'tis far more sweet," and by little girls in vivid green mantles of the national costume.

Order was well preserved by the volunteers, a squad of whom fired a salute over the grave. The priest's brief oration at the grave contained references to the hunger strikers and an expression of the wish that all Irishmen might meet death as heroically as Quirke had done and as the Cork prisoners were doing.

Warning of Reprisals

CORK, Sept. 13.—Michael Hennessy, brother of Sean Hennessy, the hunger striker, showed the Associated Press a slip of paper yesterday apparently made by a multigraph machine, which he said he had taken from a lamp post on a street leading to the jail early yesterday morning. The paper reads: "In some districts loyalists and members of his majesty's forces have read notices threatening the destruction of their houses in certain eventualities. Under these circumstances it has been decided that for every loyalist house so destroyed the house of a republican leader will be similarly dealt with.

"It is naturally to be hoped that the necessity for such reprisals will not arise, but therefore this warning of punishment which will follow any destruction of loyalist houses is being widely circulated."

According to young Hennessy similar warnings were posted during the early morning in various parts of Cork on lamp posts, signboards and walls.

Belfast Man Killed

BELFAST, Sept. 13.—A Belfast citizen, John Toner, proceeding along the Newtonards road after curfew Saturday, was shot dead, making the 320th victim here, or including the July disturbances, the 524th. The total deaths in the 1886 riots, heretofore reckoned the worst in the city's history, were 31. Fifty-eight arrests were made in Belfast Saturday night after the curfew hour.

Armed raiders visited the Torr Head Coast Guard station last night and seized arms, ammunition, telescope and other articles.

Gains Twenty Pounds In Thirty Days Time

There's Something About Tanlac That Certainly Does the Work," Says Rochester Man—Was in Miserable Health

The best proof I can give that Tanlac is the right thing for me is the way it has relieved me of my troubles and is building me up," said Charles E. Hassett, 73 Ardmore street, Rochester, N. Y., a steel worker employed by the Rochester Forging Co. "When I began taking the medicine," he continued, "I only weighed one hundred and twenty-six pounds, but I now weigh a hundred and forty-six, a gain of twenty pounds in less than thirty days."

"Back in March of this year I came down with the 'flu,' which left me with what was called catarrhal fever and in an awful run-down condition. My stomach was also in a very bad fix. I suffered with fearful pains and the gas pressed on my heart with so much force that I couldn't lie down without being in constant pain. I had to give up my job, for I was so weak I could hardly get up stairs. I was constipated and so dizzy at times that I was afraid to try to walk. What I ate seemed to do me no good, as I lost weight and strength all the time."

"After seeing how others were benefited by Tanlac, I decided to give it a trial myself, and I am simply overjoyed at the wonderful results I have obtained. I have already gotten back twenty pounds of my lost weight and my strength and energy have increased until I have gone back to my old job again."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

The use of Thirty Inch Wall Paper has increased very rapidly in recent years. These goods, because they are nearly twice as wide as ordinary goods, have an advantage in that a room done with them, there are far fewer seams. And then, too, one gets much more pattern or figure in a tapestry paper thirty inches wide. Generally, a paper of this type embodies better design and color, for the decorator looks upon these goods as representing the best of their art. MUFF MOLE MEETS FLOPPY MOUSE

"Daddy," coaxed Muff Mole one morning, as he was starting off to the Meadow Grove school, "please let me stay home today, won't you? After the storm yesterday, it's fine worm hunting, and besides I'm sick of lessons!"

Papa Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home. What would Mr. Scribble Scratch was swinging his books by their straps as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again. Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugarbowl.

He, too, had coaxed and coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie think? Besides he'd be suspecting you were playing truant and be sending that attendance officer Nick here after you. I won't have him poking around here spoiling my house, so you run along and get your lessons and be sure you make a hundred today in spelling."

Muff didn't say anything more for he knew it was of no use, and trotted off to school as though the matter were ended. But his brain was busy for all that.

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the north star and left him alone. He Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage cans in Maple Tree flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your buck teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

COX CONTINUES TOUR

Speaks at Portland, Ore., and Then Swings Eastward to Salt Lake City

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13.—Gov. Cox, whose throat has been giving him trouble during the past few days of his campaign tour of the west, was examined by a specialist who declared the governor's throat was in a bad condition and advised him to cancel some of his speaking engagements. This Gov. Cox declared emphatically, he would not do. The trouble was diagnosed as speakers' laryngitis.

The physician, Dr. Charles T. Chamberlain, a son of Senator Chamberlain, was called in yesterday after Gov. Cox arrived from Seattle and prescribed massage treatment and obtained a massage who agreed to accompany the democratic nominee on his trip today to Salem, Ore., and possibly continue on the tour.

A crowd of about 100 persons, including many women were at the station when the governor's train arrived early yesterday, but Dr. J. C. Smith, state democratic chairman, after conferring with members of the candidate's party, said that the governor desired more rest and would meet the reception committee later.

Gov. Cox had announced that he desired a quiet Sunday. In company with Senator Chamberlain, he attended Westminster Presbyterian church and listened to a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Pence.

The governor is to speak at Salem this morning and will return to Portland in time to speak here today at noon and again at 8:30.

The governor is to leave tonight for Salt Lake City, but owing to the condition of his voice, it was expected that he would not make any rear platform speeches for two or three days.

land in time to speak here today at noon and again at 8:30.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH

A plea that men and women shall show a greater willingness to assume responsibility for their conduct, was the keynote of a sermon by Dean William W. Fenn, of the Harvard Divinity School, yesterday morning, at All Souls' church. The service was the first held in the rebuilt church (after a large congregation) was in attendance. There were no formal dedicatory exercises. There was singing by a quartet choir under the direction of Albert Edmund Brown.

"In the beginning in the Garden of Eden," said Dean Fenn, "man placed responsibility for wrong doing upon the woman. She passed it on to the serpent. The serpent stood up and took what was handed to him, and said nothing. One might make out a good case for the snake, who had honor enough not to try to slip out from under the responsibility."

"Children should be trained to a sense of responsibility. In the early days of New England, children were given the duties of work to do. Many a sturdy New England character has been built up on the foundation of chores well performed. A father can make fewer greater mistakes than that not to permit his children to make their own decisions and abide by the consequences."

"I would impress upon you a sense of deep and abiding responsibility to God. There is no alternative to doing our duty. Somewhere, somehow every human soul must fulfill the duty which it was created to do."

SNAP SHOT REVELATIONS

"Vacation Night," a feature originated by the pastor, Rev. Carl P. Meister, was celebrated at the Centralville M. E. church last evening. Stereoscopic pictures of vacationers were flashed upon a screen and proved very entertaining throughout the evening. From pictures taken at a recent Sunday school picnic the pastor and other prominent members of the church were shown taking part in a blue berry pie eating contest. The slide was made from a snapshot taken unaware of the pastor and his friends and created much amusement when it was flashed upon the screen. Other pictures showing some of the members eating watermelon, still others garbed in bathing suits enjoying themselves at the seashore and some young men giving a diving exhibition were cast upon the screen. All the stereoscopic pictures were made from snapshots taken by several members of the church while on their vacations.

CENTRAL COUNCIL, A.O.H.

In the absence of President Monahan, Dr. Patrick J. Bagley occupied the chair at the regular meeting of Central council, A.O.H., which was held yesterday afternoon. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that in the course of the winter months a series of social events will be held in the new quarters of the organization in Middle street. Remarks in the interest of the council were made by the presiding officer, P. W. Moran and Thomas Dorsey.

FORDS IN COLLISION

Two Ford autos collided on the Princeton boulevard yesterday afternoon after one of them had crashed into the rear of a Cadillac. While the Cadillac, owned by Adam Guttmann of Hildreth st., this city, was being driven toward Lowell, a Ford owned by J. W. Turner of Boston, crashed into the rear of the Cadillac and was thrown in front of another Ford, operated by Daniel Goddard of Dunstable, and which was going in the opposite direction. Mrs. Goddard, who was at the wheel, received slight injuries, while one of the occupants of the Turner machine was also slightly injured. The damage to the cars was not great.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."

ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

TWO SISTERS KILLED BY SINGLE BULLET

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 13.—Two sisters, the Misses Sadie and Susie Selter, were shot to death in an automobile near here early yesterday by a crazed man in a United States army uniform. Soon afterward a military posse captured Mike Marakovich, 26 years of age, after he had been shot and badly wounded by one of its members. Marakovich, who wore an army uniform, was recently employed in the Raritan arsenal. He is in a serious condition in a hospital here. A single bullet killed both sisters, the police say.

They were being driven home in an automobile by Frank Whitlock, who said they were accosted by a man who carried a rifle and seemed under the influence of liquor. Whitlock said he tried to persuade the man to go away but that he refused, fired a shot at the car and ran away.

Whitlock rushed the sisters to a hospital, where they died. Hospital physicians said the bullet passed through both girls' bodies, striking Sadie, who was in the front seat, and severing her spinal cord, and then piercing the breast of her sister seated in the rear of the car.

It is estimated that to collect 600 pounds of honey 62,000 heads of clover must be deprived of their nectar, making necessary 3,750,000 visits from bees.

DEMAND RELEASE OF MacSWINEY

Huge Crowd at De Valera
Mass Meeting in Boston
Adopt Resolutions

Great Ovation for Irish President and His Wife—Thousands in Parade

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Great mass meetings on Boston common and in Mechanics building, followed a gala parade through Boston streets, in which Eamon De Valera, president of the Irish republic, and Mrs. De Valera were central figures, yesterday featured the most remarkable demonstration for Irish independence ever held in New England.

Through crowded lanes extending for more than three miles, the Irish leader passed under escort of 16,000 men and women from cities and towns of Greater Boston. On the historical parade held of Boston common De Valera spoke first, although few of the thousands hearing his voice there could distinguish his figure. Darkness set in before the great procession terminated, yet the program was carried out.

In Mechanics hall 5000 persons filled the huge auditorium and galleries, packing the structure to such an extent that its capacity was taxed to the limit and police regulations forced other thousands outside to stand in the street. At this great indoor gathering demands were made for the withdrawal of England's soldiers from Ireland. There Britain's acts of coercion were defied and there resolutions were adopted calling for the immediate release from prison of the dying lord mayor of Cork, Terence MacSwiney.

A ten-minute reception, tumultuous cheering and yelling, stamping of feet, waving of flags and the tossing of hats in air greeted De Valera when he was introduced. Similar ovation was accorded Mrs. De Valera. From start to finish the day's program was wreathed in cheers, culminating in the unrestrained outburst at the night's meeting.

Ideal weather marked the day. The De Valera party began the day by attending mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at 10 o'clock in the morning. Cardinal O'Connell presided at the mass, after which he received Mr. De Valera and his wife, meeting them for the first time. The cardinal also presented Mrs. De Valera with an autographed copy of his speeches.

The grand parade, made up of Irish societies, labor organizations and veterans of American wars, and including many women, was nearly two hours late in starting. It was loudly cheered all along the way, and when the common was reached night had set in. The parade never finished, for many of the divisions stopped as they passed the meeting place of the night gathering.

Today President De Valera will rest at the Copley Plaza before returning to New York. He has scheduled for the morning and early afternoon a number of important conferences with Irish leaders of the state, and expects to leave Boston at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Optimistic Last Year's Reception

In every respect the reception to President De Valera yesterday far outshone that given to him on his first visit to Boston a year ago last June when he inaugurated his American campaign for recognition of the Irish republic. Greater crowds filled the streets to see him pass. The cheering was more vociferous. Unique was the gathering in the dark on Boston common, and at night the demonstration in the massive Mechanics building was without parallel.

The great night meeting was opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Sheria O'Donovan Rossa, granddaughter of the Irish nationalist patriot. O'Donovan Rossa, Greenglass in Gaelic next were offered by Mrs. Nora Mitchell, president of the Boston Minute Women. Then Charles S. O'Connor, member of the Boston school committee, took charge of the meeting, acting as chairman.

His speech stirred the enthusiasm of the thousands packed on the floor and in the balconies of the immense hall. His words condemning the treatment of Terence MacSwiney and Archbishop Mannix by the British government, worked them to such a pitch that they broke into the wildest kind of demonstration when Ireland's leader was presented to them.

The Boston school committeeman fired their spirits and at the same time caused tears to well up into the eyes of the men and women when he declared that round MacSwiney's bed of pain is marshallled an unseen and countless host of liberty lovers throughout the world—an army that someday will rock England to its very foundation.

"Terence MacSwiney in death," he shouted, "will prove in time to come the silent conqueror of Britain." This declaration was answered by cheer after cheer. Men and women jumped to their feet, climbed onto their seats, waved hats and flags in the air and renewed the demonstration, which stopped only after repeated efforts of the presiding officer.

One such outburst followed another. Others came in the course of his speech when he said that the "Irish question is an American question unless liberty has lost its savor in America," and when he declared that "liberty cannot be strangled in Ireland and remain secure in America."

Rises answered every mention of Lloyd George's name demonstrations of this sort issuing from the mouths of the thousands sounding as if many hot irons had been thrust suddenly into water. Cheers and groans mingled in the demonstrations with every announcement of Britain's acts in Ireland and that nation's torture of Erin's patriots.

Cardinal's Sentiments Read

Cardinal O'Connell was unable, to attend. A letter addressed to Jeremiah Carroll was read to the audience. In it the cardinal said that Ireland's cause is the cause of freedom everywhere, and that is why as free Americans, knowing the blessings of true liberty, we in America stand by Ireland in her glorious struggle, which must soon be crowned with success.

Pres. De Valera was given a reception which visibly affected him. The cheering lasted for some minutes. He said in part:

"I am very glad that the committee arranged so that you might hear all the other speakers before I spoke, for this reason: that I regard it as most unfortunate that the only work I can do for Ireland here in America is simply to talk."

"I felt tonight how vain is talk against brute force, and I felt somehow that we here in America would be more effective for Ireland with something that spoke more determinedly than words."

"Lloyd George should be shot for treason by his own court-martials. (Applause.) No Irishman has spoken such treason to the British empire as Lloyd George himself if to speak those things he spoke during the war were treason."

"If it is treason for MacSwiney, according to that British law, to say that nations have a right to rule themselves and the Irish people have a right to rule themselves, then what treason has Lloyd George been guilty of in the four years he has been talking to the world?"

"MacSwiney was found guilty of having in his possession documents which were supposed to stir up sedition in Ireland, sedition against their majesty, King George V. There was no treason uttered by any Irishman calculated to stir up such sedition against that British king as were the words of Lloyd George."

"It was only when I was listening

Depression in Shipping Business in Japan

TOKIO, Sept. 8.—Depression in the shipping business in Japan has become so serious that the government has dispatched officials to Kobe and Osaka, the great shipping centers, in search of remedies. About eighty steamships are tied up at the principal ports of the empire. A prominent shipping official is quoted as saying that the storehouses are choked with goods but nothing is being taken out, so there is no need of steamers.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted three score years and ten, to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolinas, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their malefactions were not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (N.R. Tablet) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

The New Triplex Spring Overland

Keeping Up Its Reputation For Keeping Down The Up-keep!

The burning question today is Gasoline. Obviously, the price will come down when more oil comes up. But that will be only a respite, not a cure.

The fact is, the time has arrived to increase the radius of motor mileage independent of the gas tank. The Overland designers reached that conclusion four years ago. That was not difficult. But the solution was. We will tell you why.

Anyone with a smattering of mechanical knowledge knows that to reduce the weight of a car is to reduce the cost of maintenance.

But, ordinarily, to reduce the weight of a car is to sacrifice the comfort of riding in it; and comfort weighs just as much as economy on a motor ride.

The problem was to combine lightweight economy with heavyweight comfort.

Expert engineering knowledge said it couldn't be done.

That was the tradition that a generation of automobile designers had set up.

And that is the tradition that the Overland designers have upset.

After four years of unrelenting effort, involving millions of dollars in experimentation, and millions more in readjusting the thousandfold activities of the Overland plants to the fundamental change in Overland plans, the most perplexing of automobile problems is solved.

Fleet as a cruiser in her light-alloy steels, and suspended securely on the new Triplex Spring—

The Overland is literally a revelation in comfort and a revolution in economy!

You don't know what either comfort or economy is in a lightweight car, till you have ridden in the new Suspension Triplex Spring Overland!

For this is the first time in the history of motoring that economy and comfort have taken the road together!

The Overland Sedan has an average of 25 miles in 97 cities. That is the reason and this is the season for an Overland Sedan.

GILLESPIES WIN TITLE

Defeat South Ends and Take City Championship, $100 and Cup

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a ball game in this city saw the Gillespies win the Twilight League championship silver loving cup, at Spalding park Saturday afternoon after a hard fought battle, by the score of 4 to 2.

The teams went through the regular league schedule to a tie, each winning 6 and losing 2 games, and the playoffs necessary to determine the champion. The teams presented their strongest lineups and the supporters of both clubs as well as many neutral fans who had greatly enjoyed the games, turned out by the thousands to witness the grand finale. The fans and the families, too, came armed with all kinds of noise provokers, whistles and they used them frequently throughout the nine inning battle.

The Gillespies got the jump at the start and they maintained the lead to the finish. The South Ends staged a rally in the eighth that gave their supporters a chance to cheer, but the Gillespies tightened and refused to relinquish the lead.
 Sam Pouliot twirled for the Gillespies and his superb pitching was the main factor in his team's defeat. He had a world of slum, was cool at all times, and seemed to be at his best in the pinches. He allowed but four scattered hits, and had good control at the mound. Pouliot has a local semi-professional worked to better advantage. The South End players and rooters tried hard to unseat the big fellow, but he refused to yield. His exhibition would do credit to a big leaguer, and that his splendid performance was appreciated was evident as he walked to the bench after each inning. Pouliot was accorded great support and his teammates gave him the lead to work on right at the start, and came through at opportune times as the game progressed. While at times the champions slipped up, Pouliot's cool and careful pitching at all ways came to the rescue to prevent disaster. The Gillespies were steady and hit well and in the final analysis played better than the South Ends and deserved the victory. Smith at third was a big obstacle to South End success, while his triple to deep center was the hitting feature of the day.

"Big" Falls was on the rubber for the common entry and he, too, pitched good ball. He let the big crowd down with his hits, but two of them were triples, and these proved his undoing. "Billy" McMahon, at second for the South Ends played a high class fielding game and came through in the eighth with a fine two-bagger that scored the first South End run.
 Bridgeport contributed the feature play of the outfield. He got under two blows that looked good for him as the balls bounced off the billies, and by perfect throwing nipped runners. He nailed one at third after a shoe string catch and another at the plate, after taking one on a double play. Linton caught a fine game and effected considerable pop into the play. Jenkins at shortstop was the weak link in the South End defense, and his two errors played an important part in the team's downfall.
 Nixie Coughlin who officiated as umpire gave general satisfaction. He kept the players on their toes all the way and ran the game with big league precision. Mayor Thompson, who has been an enthusiastic fan all season and Frank Ricard, who donated the handsome cup, formally opened the game, the mayor throwing the first ball and Mr. Ricard receiving it behind the plate. The score:

EARL & WILSON, 107 N. E. 1st St. S. E.

Oh, you Pete:

Remember Ratty Waters who tied the dishpan under Prof. Bunn's car at Princeton? He's more seriously inclined now. He's selling bonds! Ran smack into Ratty as he was hustling for his a.m. fodder with a Camel cigarette perched between his lips and looking happy like a turtle on a log. It's a pretty art, this opening up the morning with a Camel!

Well sir, Pete, what Ratty rattled into my rafters would supply Camel selling stuff for a year! "There's nothing to this cigarette game but Camels," said Ratty. "Their mellowness is a revelation and I never did run into such mildness in my life. And, when you figure that Camels have all the 'body' any smoker wants—well, I just marvel that such a cigarette could be made! Did you ever get such a refreshing flavor?"

Pete, it was great to hear Ratty sing the praises of Camels quality. And, what a mouthful he said about Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos!

For instance, Ratty spread this: "Shorty, I can't stand the usual unpleasant cigarette aftertaste and unpleasant cigarette odor! Camels are free from both! (100% O.K., Pete!) And, they never tire my taste! When you pass by Camels you have slipped by your smoke signals!"

Tried to get Ratty to put some of that sales talk on paper, but he came back:—"You tell 'em, old Kettle, you've got the spout!"

Pete, Camels won Ratty's favor like they've won thousands of others! They'll win any man who gives them a chance!

P.S. Just wrote R.T. Reynolds Tobacco Co. it ought to help to slip a picture of the Camel package right alongside the big name "Camel"—like this. More ideas brewing! S.

SPEAKER JUMPS INTO TIE HEART SOCK DEMPSEY'S FOR A. L. LEADERSHIP

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—This Speaker regained his battling eye during the week, and that George Siler, the St. Louis star, for battling honors in the American league, according to the average which include games of last Wednesday. Siler went into a slump and dropped to .331, the mark which Speaker has attained. Joe Jackson of the Chicago stands in third place with an average of .334, while "Babe" Ruth, the New York home run king, is in fourth place with .325.

Ruth cracked out his 45th home run during the past week, and broke the home run record held by Perry Worland of Minneapolis. He roused is the greatest home run hitter of all time. Ruth is leading the run getters with 140 runs, while Rice of Washington is far in front in stolen bases with 42. Other leading batters for 60 or more games: E. Collins, Chicago, .363; Meusel, New York, .346; Rice, Washington, .343; Judge, Washington, .342; Jacobson, St. Louis, .337; Hendryx, Boston, .337.

Nicholson of Pittsburgh has dethroned Barnaby of St. Louis for batting honors in the National league. The slugger, Pittsburgh outfielder is hitting .357 while the St. Louis star slumped to .335, with Eayrs of Boston pushing him with .331.

Williams of Philadelphia cracked out another homer and has brought his string up to show the way to the basestealers with 48 thefts. Baneroff of New York is the best run-getter with 63 tallies. Other leading hitters: Young, New York, .344; Roush, Cincinnati, .340; J. Smith, St. Louis, .335; Stock, St. Louis, .323; Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, .323; King, New York, .323; Hollocher, Chicago, .312.

HEART SOCK DEMPSEY'S RING TRADE MARK

By DEAN SNYDER

The Heart-Sock: What is it? Page Jack Dempsey, its keeper. It is fundamentally a blow leveled just below the heart. The effects of this particular kind of sock produce a willing sensation, a slipping away of interest. The hope spasm fades from the eye of the bird on the receiving end. All dreams of crowns and big purses peter out.

The heart-sock trade-mark postpones all aspirations of glory who would conquer the title and enter the movies for some easy kale. It got Willard. This was the blow that sent Jess Willard on his way to defeat at Toledo. It took all the fight out of him. He lost heart and interest in Dempsey's game after he took one.

The same thing happened to Billy Miske when he received this brand of sock taken from Dempsey at Benton Harbor. Miske felt the heart-sock in the first round with the champion. He brought down his guard to the tender spot and came out with pain. Dempsey let him live out the round.

MURPHY AND FITZSIMMONS

Star Fighters Who Fought Here Matched to Meet in Feature Event at Rochester, N. H.

Billy Fitzsimmons of Chelsea and Billy Murphy, the great little red-headed featherweight of Staten Island, who fought two sensational draws at Lowell recently, were matched today to meet at a show to be held in conjunction with the big fair at Rochester, N. H., on the 22nd of this month. This is the first show ever held in that city and the fans should get plenty of action in their introduction to the sport.

After attending the Employed Officers' retreat held at Camp Buckle, General Secretary H. P. Howe, Industrial Secretary H. E. Hockman and Social and Membership Secretary R. Barnum have returned to their duties at the local Y.M.C.A. The conference was attended by over 100 secretaries from the different associations in the state. The main business of the meeting consisted in laying plans for the winter. The opinion was expressed during the meeting that within the next year the membership of the associations in the United States will number over 1,250,000 men and boys. The membership enrollment week for 20 '21 associations in the state will be held from October 17 to 25. The plan is to raise the membership by one-third the present total.

With instruction under the immediate direction of Miss Ruth Olive Halford, the Centralville M. E. church will open a neighborhood music school on Wednesday next. Attention will be given to voice building and piano technique, also to mass and choir singing. Registration should be entered either at the church or through Miss Halford.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Fair weather favored the opening here today of the 33rd annual women's lawn tennis championship tournament of the United States on the grass courts of the Philadelphia Cricket club. Seventy-six players are entered. The competition will last all the week.

As Mrs. George W. Whitman of Boston, the present national champion, has announced she will not defend her title, the winner of the tournament will not have to meet her in the challenge round.

Miss Marion Zinderstein, who was defeated by Mrs. Whitman in the challenge round last year, is among the entrants as is Mrs. Franklin Malory who, as Molla Bjurstedt, won the championship in 1915, 1916 and 1918. The women's doubles title and the mixed doubles championship will also be decided.

crops they also produced a home-run hitter this year.

He is Everett Yaryan, catcher for Frank Isbell's Wichita ball club in the Western league. The big fellow finished the month of August with a total of 26 four-ply knocks. His batting average registered .354. He poled out six the last week of the month.

Western fans do not call him the "Babe Ruth" of the league, as might be expected, but refer to his swifter as "Muscles" and "Strength" and "Yamyam."

On top of all his slugging glory Yaryan ranks with George Sheslak of the St. Joe club, as being one of the league's best receivers.

He is 25 years old. Four years ago he came to the Wichita club as a rookie. Frank Isbell and Joe Berger showed him how the game was played and he proved a good pupil.

The Wichita club has had several offers from the majors for the "Babe Ruth" hitter of the circuit and the fans are settling back to the realization that the slugging backstop is playing his last year in the minors.

will be increased gradually, or as fast as orders come in. The Bay State mills, another branch of the American Woolen company is still operating on short time as it has been doing for the past five or six weeks. The Wamsutter mill, is still shut down tight, but it is expected that within a week or ten days operations will be resumed there. The agents of the local mills of the American Woolen company are hopeful that within a few weeks all plants will be running full time and with a full complement of help.

MUCH IS LIFE

See the little boys.
Are they happy little boys?

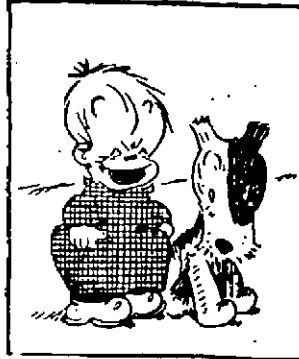

No, they are not happy little boys. Why are they not happy little boys? Ding dong! Ding dong! Ding dong! That's why they're not happy little boys.

Old school bell is ringing.
Ringing for them.
Ringing the knell on all-day play, on swimmin' parties an' picnics.
Ringing in a flock of tough hours with 'rhythmetics, an' readers, an' 'ritin' lessons.

Is anybody happy on a sad day like this?
Lols o' folks are tickled pink.
You said it.
The mothers, frinstance.
The mothers are glad little Willie and Tommie are going back to school.
So is the neighbor next door who gets so peaved every time a baseball breaks one of her windows.

So is the teacher who is never happy unless she's catching a feller throwing paper wads or whispering.
But is any little boy in all this broad land of ours happy when the blamed old school bell rings out?
Yes, there is one.
Here he is.

Sean Hennessey, the 19-year-old youth whose condition has been grave for several days, remains in a comatose state, and in his semi-conscious moments, he is refusing to take the customary quantity of water. Last night he accepted only two sips.

All the strikers are becoming restless, which, according to the doctors, is a new and not reassuring phase of their case.

Both government physicians, Dr. Pearson and Dr. Batticombe, have received death threats.

Scores of Cablegrams Sent to Lloyd George in Behalf of Lord Mayor MacSwiney

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Scores more cablegrams urging the release of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork were sent from Greater Boston and other parts of New England yesterday to Premier Lloyd George of England.

The flood of cablegrams followed an editorial in the Boston Post suggesting that the sentiment of the American people in New England be sent to Lloyd George. The Post urged the cablegrams as the most effective manner owing to the precarious condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney and because there is no time to be lost.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—After pledging

First Day Feelings

Edmund Vance Cooke

"I tell you what, I call it cruel
To make a feller go to school
And learn a lot of stuff,
When Lincoln didn't haf to go
Exceptin' for a year, or so,
And he done well enough."

"I know pa says, and teacher, too,
I got to see the darn thing through,
And give up all my fun.
And ma says I ain't got no pride,
But blame th! I'd be satisfied
To do what Lincoln done."

"And just because he never went,
The people made him president
For they all recollected
What school had done to them, and so
They said a guy that wouldn't go
Had ought to be elected."

"But now, what chance has anyone
Who wants to do like Lincoln done?
What chance, I ask, have I?
Gee whizz! I'd like to go each fall
And write on every school-house wall—
"No Lincoln's need apply!"

their moral support to Ireland, Boston Italians, men, women and children, who packed Faneuil hall yesterday afternoon, stood with bowed heads in solemn manifestation of their profoundest sympathy for Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

The occasion was the celebration of the first anniversary of Gabriele d'Annunzio's entrance into Fiume and his recent proclamation of the city's independence. Virtually all available space in the hall was filled.

The meeting was characteristically replete with demonstrations at every mention of Italy and America. Especially demonstrative was the audience when Attorney Felix Forte predicted Ireland's independence, pointing out that that country's battle for self-determination is as much justifiable if not more than Fiume's.

At this juncture, Anthony Dentamaro, presiding officer, called for a rising vote pledging support to Ireland. As a unit the audience rose. Men waved their hats, women their handkerchiefs. From every section came shouts of "Long live Ireland!" Then, at the request of Mr. Dentamaro, the audience stood with bowed heads in mute evidence of their sympathy for Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

Ubaldo Guidi, a North End banker, stirred his listeners to repeated applause with tributes to America, Ireland and Italy.

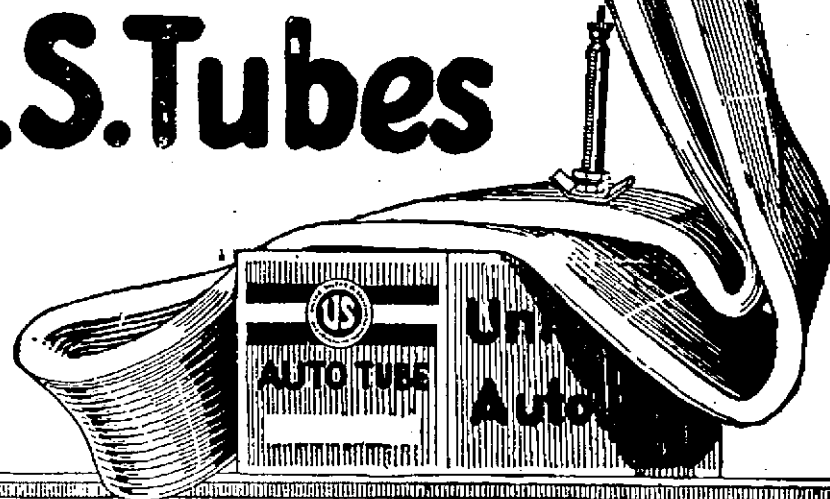

What do You Need to Know About Tubes

TO THE experienced motorist, there is more in knowing who makes his automobile tubes than how many layers they are made of or how the valve patch is applied.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The stock market was firm at the opening of today's session, showing a decided advance in several important groups. The Federal Reserve bank's weekly report, showing a decrease in the money supply, was a factor in the advance. The market was particularly strong in the foreign exchange market, where the dollar was in demand. The stock market was also helped by the fact that the Federal Reserve bank had not raised the discount rate, which was a relief to the market. Another installment from France Arrived at New York Today—Foreign Exchange Market
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Another installment of $1,000,000 in gold from France arrived at New York today, making approximately $20,000,000 already shipped to be applied to the French loan maturing Oct. 15. It is understood that France will ship a total of $50,000,000 in gold to this country.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE
The foreign exchange market was weaker today. Demand bills on London fell to 43 1/2 to the pound and Paris demand bills to 65 1/2. Both low records for the current movement.

DROP IN PRICE OF SUGAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Arbuckle Sugar Refining Co. today reduced its list price of granulated sugar from 17.10 to 15 cents a pound. All refiners in the market now are quoting this price, but most of the demand is being supplied by second hand dealers at 14 to 14 1/2 cents.
